

Path to Organizational Health and Balance

Genuine Contact™ Program
Foundational Workshop 1

7 May 2017 // 15:00 - 19:00
Kungsbacka, Sweden

Upgrade your perspective on organizational well-being

This workshop provides practical tools for attending to the organizational climate. In this workshop participants learn a path for re-discovering the blueprint and restoring a healthy and balanced climate in an organization. Together they explore the state of health in their organizations from a holistic growth perspective and develop their own perception of what is needed to achieve and maintain health and balance.

You will leave this experiential, interactive workshop equipped with

- Key questions for looking at your own organization from a practical holistic framework
- Knowledge of how the organizational worldview can impact its climate and performance
- Knowledge of how to increase the capacity of your organization through attending to its health and balance
- A set of simple tools that help you to restore the interior terrain in your organization

Who should participate

Anyone who has passion to improve the culture, health and balance in the organization they are working. Anyone who likes to get an experience of Genuine Contact approach of working.
